NEW YORK TIMES* BESTSELLING AUTHOR CARL WEBER TO VISIT COLLEGE HILL BRANCH LIBRARY

Tampa, FL – The Ada T. Payne Friends of the Urban Libraries will welcome author Carl Weber on Wednesday, February 13 at 4 pm at the College Hill Branch Library, 2607 E. Dr. M.K.L. Jr. Blvd.

Weber will discuss his newest book, So You Call Yourself a Man, a straight-up novel about friendship and love, sex and betrayal, and how getting some on the side is never as simple as it seems.

In addition to his writing, Weber is the founder and publisher of Urban Books and in 2005, he was named Blackboard's Publisher of the Year. He is the owner of the Urban Knowledge chain of bookstores and a past recipient of Blackboard's Bookseller of the Year award.

Weber graduated from Virginia State University and holds an MBA in marketing from the University of Virginia. He lives in Long Island, New York with his family. "Once you get one under your belt, once you get that first break, life is easier," says Weber, whose first novel, Lookin' For Luv, a relationship story written from the rarely heard male perspective, was published in 2000.

This program is cosponsored by the Ada T. Payne Friends of the Urban Libraries. For more information about this and other FREE programs @ your library®, please call (813) 273-3652 or visit hcplc.org.
