Unfinished Business—None.

New Business

A letter was presented on behalf of the Friends of the Bloomingdale Library outlining concerns regarding use of the parking lot by customers from the retail development next door. The Bloomingdale Friends are seeking: 1. Signage that will address the situation. 2. Fencing to separate the library property and deter crossing. 3. A prominent entry sign is needed to define the property. 4. Referral of the road access issue to the Board of County Commissioners.

Staff is working with the County’s Real Estate Architectural Services on entry signage and will consult with them on fencing, directional signage and other parking lot concerns. They will follow up and respond directly to the Bloomingdale Friends. Related policy, LS516, Abandoned and Unauthorized will be referred to the Policy & Bylaws Committee for review.

Concerns were raised about the shortage of parking at Robert W. Saunders, Sr. Library. The Library has had increased attendance at large conferences during the day, and current agreements accommodate overflow parking only during the evening. Staff reported that Real Estate and Facilities Service is in the process of trying to lease additional parking. There are plans to install additional lighting, replace fencing and reseal/repave the additional lot. They will look into other potential properties that might be available.
Director's Report

The Library is taking part in a “Book Rich Environments” initiative. Tampa is one of 35 cities participating in the initiative, overseen by the Urban Libraries Council and funded by Random House, to offer library programs focused on children from local housing authorities. The first programs will be piloted at Seminole Heights and North Tampa Libraries.

A first draft of the Burgert Bros. photo appraisal report has been received valuing the collection at approximately $5 million. Professional digitization and preservation of the collection will be performed over the next few years.

An Innovation Communities program has been initiated asking staff to submit and vote on the top two innovation and improvement suggestions. Volunteer-based staff groups will formulate solutions that will then be considered for implementation. The Library Board may be called upon for input as part of this ongoing process.

Tampa-Hillsborough County Public Library was recognized as an Innovator by the Urban Libraries Council in its weekly national newsletter for its “Work in the Flow” program. “Work in the Flow” frames libraries as free “co-working” places, and facilitates interpersonal connections for entrepreneurs.

C. Blythe Andrews, Jr. Library is set to close temporarily starting April 15 to conduct ground mitigation work and a year of construction for a replacement library.

The new University Community Library project is underway with an expected opening in late 2017.
